

Innovative Kidsville International Preschool Now Accepting Registrations in Malaysia

PENANG, Malaysia – Kidsville International Preschool, with the consultancy support of the IPC, has begun to raise early childhood education standards within Malaysia. Teaching to the children of Malaysia a leading curriculum with a special focus on internationalism, multilingualism, and diversity, Kidsville is an extraordinary preschool with distinct attributes.

Kidsville officially opened its doors in April of 2014 and is now accepting enrollments for sessions taking place Sept/Oct 2014, and later. For early bird registrations, special discounts are being offered. Conveniently located at 15, Lebuah Lembah Permai 2, 11200, Tanjung Bungah, Penang, Kidsville is situated in Casa Permai 1, a newly developed residential by BSG, Boon Siew Properties. Kidsville faces the public playground and is within a very short walking distance to the famous 'Homestyle' Chinese restaurant. Nearby area includes Mount Erskine, Tanjung Tokong and Batu Ferringhi.

Offering programs including music and movement, art and drama, and even a cupcake baking session in collaboration with Sugar by Love A Cupcake from Straits Quay, Kidsville has already successfully established itself as an innovator within Penang's preschool education market. Parents of both current and prospective students are invited to come and view the school environment and get familiar with the school's philosophies, staff, and programs. Parental involvement is one of Kidsville's core philosophies, as supported by IPC. Parents receive a newsletter informing them of each unit being taught to their children and are regularly updated on their child's progress, creating a partnership to support each child's education.

Currently, Kidsville offers 4 divergent programs. On weekends, children from 13 to 30 months can participate in Little Explorers Weekend Playgroup. On weekdays, toddlers from 18 to 30 months will love being a part of the Toddler Program, while children from 3 to 6 years old will enjoy the IPC Program, from levels 1 to 4. Children 3 years and older are also welcome to join the After School Program, making Kidsville a convenient choice for parents.

Founded by two women who are extremely passionate about early childhood education, Kidsville operates under the belief that every child is unique in their own way, and Kidsville is here to cultivate that unique potential in each child. Cultivating this potential, in turn, provides for each child the best possible start to a successful life. The International Preschool Curriculum is therefore the curriculum used at Kidsville.

The vital impact of early learning programs within the first five years of a child's life is frequently discussed among experts within the early childhood education field. Through the International Preschool Curriculum, the students of Kidsville learn from a multi-faceted curriculum. The IPC curriculum is designed with the child in mind, allowing them the freedom to develop at their varying paces. The curriculum is inquiry based so that students remain engaged, play based so that students are having fun and are comfortable while learning, and thematic and objective based so that material is taught to students organized to their understanding, with available tools to monitor progress or areas of concern.

All teachers employed at Kidsville International Preschool are College of Teaching™ certified, ensuring that they are knowledgeable in the field of early childhood education and have been trained on best practices in health, safety, curriculum planning, teaching, and more. Kidsville takes measures to verify that teachers are both caring people and quality educators, and are committed to teaching in and maintaining a clean and safe environment. A recent study on international schools has shown that 91% of schools believe that parents and community stakeholders value international teacher training such as those offered by the IPC.

About the IPC

The International Preschool Curriculum (IPC) was founded to strengthen and harmonize early childhood education standards. As a professional association that directly serves schools, learners, parents and governments, the IPC offers a unique set of products and services that promote active learning and effective practices in teaching.

Headquartered in the United States, the IPC's objective and research based curriculum meets the standards set by state departments and accreditation organizations. The IPC is internationally recognized and works closely with governments to amend curricula materials if required to ensure local compliance.

With the assistance of an advisory committee, which consists of peers, consultants and academics, the IPC ensures that its curriculum maintains its rigor and quality. The IPC also offers an extensive teacher training program; the 6-month certificate course reinforces essential teaching skills and establishes a minimum standard for teaching practices in IPC schools.

The IPC also offers practical guides, consultancy guidance, marketing assistance and PR services for all authorized schools. In order to become an IPC authorized school, your school must be willing to adhere to the IPC's Code of Ethical Conduct, Marketing Code and be in compliance with all local requirements.
